Active containers are designed to keep the contents at a specific temperature during the entire journey, by actively heating or cooling the air inside. These are recommended when maintaining a precise temperature is critical to the quality and integrity of the product. We are approved to carry all CSafe and Envirotainer containers. Whilst we do not hold a stock of the containers, we can lease them on request, or you can source them yourselves directly from the suppliers.

For more information about our rates and leasing process please get in touch with us and we will be happy to assist.

Passive Containers

Passive containers do not actively control temperature, but use phase change material/gel packs to effectively regulate the internal temperatures for >120 hours. These are recommended for passive shipments, when temperature-controlled storage may not be available at all points along the supply chain.

We are approved to carry all SkyCell and Prooftrainer. Whilst we do not hold a stock of the containers, we can lease them on request, or you can source them yourselves directly from the suppliers. For more information about our rates and leasing process please get in touch with us we will be happy to assist. If you are planning on using your own passive containers, please use our published Pharma rates.

Please note all containers should be delivered to us pre-screened and security cleared.

Rates are exclusive of surcharges.

All cargo will be billed on Chargeable weight with the exception of goods on Courier – Express.

Chargeable weight is whichever is the greater of the Actual Gross Weight or the Volumetric Weight. Volumetric weight of the shipment must be calculated based on the following ratios: 6000 cubic cm per kg; 366 cubic inches per kg.

Rates are quoted in USD.

Rates are valid from the specific gateway only. Additional gateways can be found in the 'Additional in-forwarding' section and are charged according to that gateway.

Rates do not apply to restricted articles, oversized cargo, active containers, Valuable, Mail, Repatriation (human remains) and Cars. Please contact us for applicable rates.

Dry ice is accepted on our flights where the net weight does not exceed our aircraft limitations.

The class, UN and net weight of the hazardous contents must be stated at time of booking.

DGR (dangerous goods) are accepted across select products and service levels to our direct destinations. The net weight of the hazardous content must be stated at the time of booking. Dangerous goods are accepted to our online stations and select onforwarding stations – please check with us at time of booking for any onforwarding restrictions where a trucking sector is involved.

All shipments are subject to Virgin Atlantic Airways' conditions of carriage and IATA regulations.

As per the Montreal Convention, liability shall be limited to 22 SDR's per kg and linked to the weight of the shipment, not the value. If the carrier liability is less than the claimed amount, Virgin Atlantic Cargo shall offer settlements in line with limits of liability. Any additional gestures shall be reviewed on an individual case-by-case basis.

Rates may be subject to review on shipments with excessive volume.

Shipments may be liable to a weight/volume check on acceptance and charges may be levied. Virgin Atlantic Cargo cannot be held responsible for any delays caused as a result.

Virgin Atlantic Cargo reserves the right to revise these rates without prior notification.

These rates replace all previously issued rates and are valid until further notice.

Any devices being used (both transmitting and non-transmitting) must be on our approved list and declared at time of booking. For full terms and conditions, please click here.

Security charges will be applied based on the most appropriate method deemed by the operator receiving the cargo. Virgin Atlantic Cargo reserves the right to charge for secondary screening without prior notification and will not be held responsible for the charges applied to make the cargo known.

AF, KL, DL and VS have formed a transatlantic joint venture, including in respect of their cargo cooperation, for the benefit of their customers. This allows the airlines to work together to optimise services to customers across their combined networks, offering more destinations, more capacity and more frequent services. Within the scope of this joint venture, the carriers are cooperating both commercially, including on pricing, and operationally on cargo offers related to transatlantic routings.
